

Team Building Plans and Activities

Active-High Impact

Trust me. This scenario calls for the wall to come down and the trust to come out. There will be several different time during this group of activities that the members of the team will need to be trust worthy, can you do it? Are you up for it?

All Aboard! This is game will have some problem solving and creative thinking involved. Prove to your teammates that you can trust them, and you can all work together.

Survival Construction. You and your team find yourselves in the middle of nowhere, and it will take days maybe weeks, or months until some one find you. You need to construct a place to live to make sure it is a search for you not a recovery.

Red Light, Green light. Another great trust game to build up the team and create stronger bonds. Direct you blind folded partner around the small course with out hitting another person, or breaking any driving laws.

Walk (with or on) the Plank! Your team has two long boards and must race using the boards to get from the start to the finish.

Group Juggling. Get your team together and on the same page, be one as a team and as smooth in the toss and catch as possible.

Passive-Low Impact

Survival. Your group is given a scenario where survival skills will be need to either be saved or get back to civilization. Map out your groups plan of attack; order of events, shelter, food, defense, what do you need and in what order.

Guess who? List your likes and dislikes along with other fun fact to see if your teammates know you well, or not so well.

Brain teasers. Let us see how strong your team is when it comes to brain power. Take these mini teasers and solve them as correctly, but as quickly as possible.

Shawnee Team Building

The success of your organization relies on the cohesiveness of your team. A basic definition of a team is a group of people working together towards a common goal. Your team's understanding of the process and the clarity of its common goal will help to insure success. Our staff can coordinate teambuilding events for your organization. The programs below can help to revitalize and bring your group together utilizing our challenging and entertaining programs.
